

Sarah Hudson

Co-Founder of
Red House Architects

Key Information:

Co-Founder of Red House Architects, specialist residential architects, based in South East England, focused on high quality private house design and construction.

We promote creative design and encourage the use of fine materials and the highest quality craftsmen; inspired by the ethos of William Morris and the craftsmanship, beauty and traditions of the Arts & Crafts Movement.

I have a particular interest in the design, decoration and furnishing of private houses, working closely with clients to realise their aspirations for elegant homes.

I founded Thrift Architectural Services in 2011 as an outsourcing service to other Architects

I worked on school and public building programmes for 12 years, from 2000 – April 2012, latterly as a Capital Projects Manager, responsible for multi million pound building programmes. I have experience in client co-ordination, project team management, procurement and budget management for these demanding new-build and remodelling projects.

Having completed my architectural training in London, I worked for Tomey & Mackley Architects in Croydon from 1990-2000, working on schools and housing projects.

Project Roles:

Designer (including Interiors)
Client Interface & liaison.
Co-ordination of the design team.
Contract Administrator & Project Co-ordination.
Site Inspections,
Programme & Progress reviews.
